

Where can I get healthcare?

Anyone can get high quality primary healthcare services at New Jersey's Federally Qualified Health Centers (FQHCs) whether or not you can pay.

What is a FQHC or a Community Health Center?

FQHCs or Community Health Centers offer many healthcare services, consider it a one-stop-shop, like a healthcare mall for all your healthcare needs.

Why is primary and preventive care important?

Primary healthcare services like regular physical exams, immunizations and well-care visits for children can ensure that health problems are diagnosed early and appropriate preventive care is provided in a timely manner.

FQHCs or Community Health Centers provide:

- Primary and Preventive Health Care
- Immunizations
- Women's Health
- Dental Care
- Mental Health
- Substance Use Disorder Treatment
- Cancer Screening
- Tobacco Use Screening
- Tobacco Cessation & Counseling
- Ear & Eye Screenings
- Social Services

The NJPCA is a not-for-profit organization that represents 23 Federally Qualified Health Centers (FQHCs) and their 133 sites throughout New Jersey.
